House and Senate to Convene

Happy New Year!

This Legislative Bulletin provides some more information on bills that have been introduced for the New Hampshire General Court’s 2020 session, including a continued listing of all the bills we have identified so far that could affect local government. (See our December 19 Legislative Bulletin for the beginning of the list.) Once the legislature begins scheduling hearings, there will be little time to get organized, so please start checking out the legislation, contacting your representatives and senators, and contacting NHMA with any questions.

As mentioned in the December 19 Bulletin, the House and Senate will convene (separately) on Wednesday, January 8, to begin the 2020 legislative session. On that day (and continuing on January 9 in the House), they will take action on bills from 2019 that were retained (in the House) or re-referred (in the Senate). The December 19 Bulletin also contains a description of the retained/re-referred bill process.

Retained and Re-Referred Bills

To our knowledge, there is no published list of all the retained and re-referred bills, but you can find a list of those of most interest to municipalities in our June 21, 2019, Legislative Bulletin (page 4). Also, if you do a search for all 2020 bills on the General Court website (under “Find a 2020 Bill,” leave the field blank and click on the search icon), the resulting list will include both retained/re-referred bills and new bills. Any House bill with a number below 1000 is a retained bill, and any Senate bill with a number below 400 is a re-referred bill.

The most common committee recommendations on retained and re-referred bills are “inexpedient to legislate” and “refer for interim study,” and most of them will meet one of those fates. Some, however, are recommended for passage. In most cases, these bills were retained/re-referred in the originating chamber; if they are passed, they will cross over to the other chamber for hearing and final action, so further work can be done on them if needed. Here are a few of them. (Note that for all bills except SB 159, the proposed amendment replaces the entire bill, or everything except the effective date.):
• HB 311, relative to sober living facilities (Ought to Pass with Amendment)
• HB 501, relative to a cost of care fund to assist municipalities caring for animals during animal cruelty cases (Ought to Pass with Amendment)
• HB 655, allowing towns to regulate “disorderly houses” (Ought to Pass with Amendment)
• SB 152, relative to third-party inspections conducted pursuant to a planning board approval (Ought to Pass with Amendment)
• SB 113, relative to municipal authority regarding the state building code (Ought to Pass with Amendment)
• SB 159, relative to net metering (Ought to Pass with Amendment)

Committee Hearings Begin January 14
House and Senate committee hearings will begin the week of January 13, and it’s fair to expect that it will be a packed hearing schedule. Hearing dates and times have not been announced publicly yet, but we know they will begin on Tuesday, January 14; hearing schedules will appear in next Friday’s House and Senate calendars. Check the calendar section in next Friday’s Legislative Bulletin for a full schedule of hearings on bills of municipal interest.

More Bills, and More to Come
As of this writing, about 700 new bills have been released, and the spigot has not been shut off yet. Based on the number of LSRs (legislative service requests) that were filed, there may be over 100 more to come. Here are just a few that are likely (we hope!) to spark significant interest among local officials:

PFAS Funding. Although there are a number of PFAS-related bills this year, we think SB 496 deserves the most attention. SB 496 provides that the state will pay 40% of any capital costs and 40% of any disposal costs required to comply with the maximum contaminant limits for perfluorinated chemicals (PFAS). An additional 10% contribution will be provided if the cost of compliance would result in user fees that are 20% above the statewide average for residential customers. We hope this will help solve some of the cost issues that are currently being litigated in Plymouth Village Water & Sewer District et al. v. Scott, No. 217-2019-CV-650. (Note: NHMA has received the superior court’s permission to file an amicus brief in the case).

NHRS benefit increases. Several bills propose to increase pension benefits provided by the New Hampshire Retirement System (NHRS), thereby increasing both the current $5 billion unfunded liability and employer contribution rates. HB 1341 proposes to reverse several of the group II retirement reforms enacted in 2011 by making those reforms apply only to new hires or to those who vest after July 1, 2021, rather than July 1, 2012. The fiscal note for this bill states that the proposed changes will increase the unfunded liability by approximately $142 million, which will be paid by employers over the next 20 years through increased contribution rates for police and firefighters. HB 1205 seeks to change the time of the 10% NHRS pension reduction from age 65 to the member’s full retirement age under Social Security, which is up to age 67 depending on year of birth. The fiscal note for this bill estimates the cost to be approximately $37 million, again increasing the unfunded liability and the employer rates for teachers and employees. The bill as written only applies to those group I members who retire after July 1, 2020.

Zoning mandates. Our December 19 Bulletin mentioned two important zoning bills that we were expecting but had not seen yet. They have now been released. SB 458 prohibits any city or town from using its zoning authority to prohibit or regulate short-term rentals, and SB 482 requires all municipalities to allow “tiny houses” as a matter of right in all districts that permit single-family dwellings.
Right-to-Know Law. As always, there are a number of proposed changes to the Right-to-Know Law, some good and some not so good. The following is just a partial list: HB 1169 eliminates the requirement that all votes be taken by roll call when a member of a public body is participating in a meeting by telephone or other electronic means. HB 1170 adds a definition of “reasonably described” for purposes of the requirement that any governmental record “reasonably described” be made available upon request. HB 1202 requires a public body to give a person 48 hours’ notice before a nonpublic session for a discussion that may adversely affect that person’s reputation, and gives the person a right to appear, speak, have an attorney present, and record the session. HB 1307 allows a public agency to require payment for personnel costs if the time required to produce records for one requester exceeds five hours in a calendar month. HB 1325 requires a public body to keep a list of all non-public sessions where the minutes or decisions were determined not to be subject to full disclosure, including the date and time of the session, the exemption that allowed the body to meet in nonpublic session, and the date of the decision to withhold the minutes or decisions from public disclosure.

Housing appeals board. At least one bill, SB 487, would repeal the housing appeals board law that was enacted last year but has not yet taken effect. The list of LSR titles suggests that there is at least one other similar bill in the pipeline. Another bill, SB 536, would establish a committee to study the board, but would not eliminate the board.

Labor bills. Both HB 1399 and SB 448 would enact a so-called “card check” provision that allows a bargaining unit of public employees to choose an employee organization as its exclusive representative by majority written authorization, without following the current process of an election supervised by the Public Employee Labor Relations Board (PELRB). HB 1290 does not go that far, but it would allow an employee to vote in the PELRB election by mail. HB 1554 would require a new election after a bargaining unit is certified once the number of members within the bargaining unit who did not vote in the previous election exceeds the number who did. And HB 1181 would authorize the PELRB to award damages for pain and suffering upon finding that an employer or union has committed an unfair labor practice.

Again, this is just a small sampling of the bills that could have significant impacts on municipalities. Please watch these pages for information on other bills.

New House Bills
